GEN. JOHN A. LOGAN.

Reno's Reception of Himself and Party.

Reno gave Gen. John A. Logan and party a magnificent reception last evening. The vast space between the Depot Hotel and the depot buildings was crowded with men, women and children, and the balcony of the hotel was also packed from end to end. The Reno band struck up a lively tune just as the V. & T. train arrived, and Dr. Bishop and Senator Martin, who escorted the General and his party from Virginia to Reno, turned them over to Col. Lindsay, Master of Ceremonies at this end of the line, who hurriedly repaired to the hotel balcony, and in terms most complimentary and eloquent introduced Gen. Logan to the anxious audience. His very presence was the signal for an enthusiastic burst of applause. The Senator returned his thanks for the cordial reception, and then went on to speak in glowing terms of the lesson he had been taught by his visit to the coast. He paid a beautiful tribute to the genius, nobility and hospitality of the people, declaring that the like could not be equaled in any other section of the country. He referred to the products of California and Nevada, to their wool, cattle, wine and silver interests, asserting that each and every one was entitled to protection, and claimed that Nevada had never received her just due for the labor and genius that had caused the contribution of the gold and silver to enable the country to resume specie payments. He thought, too, that the possibilities of the State were not as well understood as they deserved. The General, not as a partisan, but as an American citizen, emphatically pronounced against this country being an asylum for the criminals, paupers, insane or pagans of other countries. In concluding his remarks he again spoke of the hospitality of the Pacific Coast people, and promised that whatever he could legitimately and conscientiously do as a legislator to further the interests of the coast would be gladly performed.

Capt. Alexander then introduced Gov. Alger, of Michigan, who made a brief but witty address, and one which was highly appreciated.

Calls were made for Mrs. Logan and Mrs. Alger, and these ladies appeared on the balcony, and gracefully bowed acknowledgments. A few minutes were taken up in introductions and handshaking, when the General and party were escorted to the banquet hall. The occasion will long be pleasantly remembered by every participant. The party leave on this morning's train for the East.

AN ELOPEMENT.—The Genoa Courier, of the 13th, says:

Many of our readers will remember the circumstance of a young couple passing through Genoa (on one horse), who had clandestinely left Volcano, Amador county, California. After going to Reno and remaining there a short time they returned and settled at McDonald's hotel, Sheridan. Last Saturday there arrived by stage from Carson a woman calling herself Mrs. Jane Sturman who claimed to be the mother of the young lady. She got out a warrant for the man, whose name is James Miller, on a charge of abduction and had him arrested but after going thus far Mrs. Sturman relented him and gave her consent to their marriage. The young lady being under age of course it required the consent of parent or guardian to get a license. On Monday morning the runaway couple were made man and wife at the Central Hotel. Rev. Mr. Gardner officiating and the afternoon stage took the three on their way back to Volcano.

THE CONCERT.—Owing to the rousing reception given to General Logan last evening there was not as large a crowd at Dickie Jose's benefit as there otherwise would have been. The concert was the finest ever listened to in Reno, and deserves individual mention but lack of space forbids. The music of the Orchestra was exquisite, and the dancers tripped the light fantastic to it for a couple of hours after the concert.

Services at the Baptist Church, Sabbath morning and evening. Preaching by Rev. C. L. Fisher; subject for 11 A. M., "Christ the Bread of Life." After sermon the Last Supper will be administered. Subject for 7.30 P. M., "Christ All to His Believing Children." A cordial invitation to all.

"THE GOLDEN GIANT."—This thrilling Western drama will be produced at the Theater next Wednesday evening by McKee Rankin's strong company. The play is a Western drama and the scenes alternate between the mining gulches of Idaho and the stams and palaces of New York. There is an abundance of pathos and low comedy in the plot, keeping the audience alternating between smiles and tears while marking the progress of the hero and heroine of the piece through its mazes. A duel and many thrilling scenes and startling tableaux are introduced in the course of the play. "The Golden Giant" will be presented by McKee Rankin, supported by Joseph Holland, who takes the part of a crafty gambler, while D. H. Harkins plays the heavy villain. Miss Mabel Bert will shine as the pet of an Idaho mining camp. Miss Adele Waters, Mrs. F. M. Bates, Ruby Ilere, the child actress, and Haidie Kirkland will also have prominent parts in the cast. "The Golden Giant" won an unqualified success on its first presentation at the California Theater in San Francisco. The McKee Rankin Company has just concluded an unprecedentedly successful engagement of 15 weeks at that theater and are now en route to fill a 21 weeks' engagement in New York City. The box sheet is now open at Thurston's news depot and reserved seats can be secured without extra charge.

TENACITY OF VEGETABLE LIFE.—A gentleman living in San Francisco received a small twig in an envelope, taken from his mother's grave in Posen, Germany. The twig was all but quite faded. One small portion of the stem alone preserved its green color and appeared to be slightly moist. Giving it to his wife he thought nothing more about it until the other day she brought to him a little flower-pot containing a small plant looking like a fuchsia and standing four inches high. It bears a number of small leaves on its slender stem and shows every evidence of life. This twig had traveled seven thousand miles in a common envelope, in which it had lain about three weeks. The lady who nursed it back to life cut the stem open at the bottom, inserted a grain of wheat, and planted it in the flower-pot with the remarkable result stated.

DEATH OF JACOB ASH.—Jacob Ash, at the advanced age of 76 years and nine months, quietly passed away at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Isaac Barnett, yesterday morning at about 5 o'clock, in the presence of his five sons and four daughters, who are residents of this State and California. In 1880 he, with three children, emigrated to America. His home has been since with his son-in-law, Isaac Barnett of Reno. His remains will be taken to San Francisco to-night, and there be interred in the Jewish burying ground.
